1.0 BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT:

Clonturk Community College promotes a happy and caring school environment where students are encouraged and supported to reach their full potential. The learning in Clonturk Community College centres on a positive environment, with a strong emphasis on the promotion and reward of positive behaviours. Clonturk provides a caring and safe environment for our students where the values of respect, fairness, kindness, ambition, pride, self-discipline and hard-work will be expected from all of us.

The Board of Management through the Principal has drawn up a Critical Incident Management Plan as one element of the school's policies and plans and to comply with the Safety, Health & Welfare at Work Act 2005. This Critical Incident Management Plan has been prepared to put in place clear and unambiguous procedures and assigned responsibilities to deal with emergency situations and incidents of a serious and exceptional nature that can have significant impacts on the services and operations of this organisation. These events could attract high levels of attention from the community and media.

The aim is to establish a Critical Incident Management Team (CIMT) to steer and guide the development and implementation of the plan. It is recognised that it is not possible to cover all scenarios in this plan.

The management and staff of Clonturk Community College define a critical incident as any incident or sequence of events which overwhelms the normal coping mechanisms of the school and serious disruption occurs. These incidents may involve a threat to, or result in, loss of life and / or property and have the effect (if not managed effectively) to damage the image and reputation of the school and City of Dublin ETB. Critical incidents may involve one or more students or staff members, or members of our local community and in some circumstances may constitute an emergency.

The Critical Incident Management Plan aims to put in place and test procedures that can deal in an orderly, effective and efficient manner, event scenarios of a non-predictable and non-operational nature. These events may arise from the activities of this organisation or from unusual and unpredictable external events or situations. Many events and scenarios are unpredictable and cannot be mitigated or avoided.

It is recognised that an emergency situation can be a critical incident for a school or Centre and may also be beyond the normal coping mechanisms of the Principal Emergency Services (PES). In some serious incidents where extra resources are required, the PES may declare a Major Emergency.

A Framework for Major Emergency Management 2006 defines a major emergency for the PES as follows:

A Major Emergency is any event which, usually with little or no warning, causes or threatens death or injury, serious disruption of essential services or damage to property, the environment or infrastructure beyond the normal capabilities of the principal emergency services in the area in which the event occurs, and requires the activation of specific additional procedures and the mobilisation of additional resources to ensure an effective, co-ordinated response.

2.0 RISK ASSESSMENTS: LIKELIHOOD, SEVERITY, AND CONTROLS

Risk can be thought of as a possible loss or other adverse consequence that has the potential to impact on the City of Dublin ETB's ability to achieve its objectives and fulfil its mission. Risk is the likelihood, great or small, that someone will be harmed by the hazard, together with the severity (impact) of the harm suffered.

Risks can be:

- Strategic
- Operational
- Financial
- Reputational.

Managing risk increases the probability of success and reduces the possibility of failure.

The risks are identified through a risk assessment, (template referred to in Appendix 1) and these may include:

- The death of a member of the school community through accident, violence, suicide or suspected suicide or other unexpected death
- Suicide threat
- An intrusion into the school or threat to the school such as a bomb scare
- An Infectious or communicable disease on-site for example, meningitis, TB, mumps, pandemic influenza, swine flu, anthrax, legionella outbreak, etc.

- An accident/tragedy in the wider community
- Serious damage to the school building through fire, flood, explosion, severe weather, natural disaster, vandalism, aircraft crash, prolonged loss of critical utility etc.
- The disappearance of a member of the school community e.g. on a school tour or activity
- Suspected food, beverage or water contamination
- Discover of suspicious device or parcel on-site
- Riot, civil unrest or major unplanned protest
- Hostage taking, kidnap incident or threat to life
- Release of toxic gas, chemical or radioactive substance or other airborne contaminant

3.0 AIM OF THE CRITICAL INCIDENT MANAGEMENT PLAN:

The aim of the CIMP is to help school management and staff to react quickly and effectively in the event of an incident, to enable them to maintain a sense of control and composure and to ensure that appropriate support is offered to students and staff. Having a good plan should also help ensure that the effects on the students and staff will be limited. It should enable an effective return to normality as soon as possible and maintain business continuity if deemed appropriate.

4.0 CREATION OF A COPING SUPPORTIVE AND CARING ETHOS IN THE FACILITY:

Systems should be in place to help to build resilience in both staff and students, thus preparing them to cope with a range of life events. These include measures to address both the physical and psychological safety of the school community. Teachers and SNAs in City of Dublin ETB have access to Employee Assistance Service (EAS) through Spectrum/Life
